Media Release

Re: Public Protector clears Musina Municipality on allegations of nepotism, corruption and inflation of Strategic Planning Session prices

Following media reports and complaints from some individuals, the Office of the Public Protector has investigated and cleared Musina Municipality on the following allegations:

- Alleged nepotism through appointment of friends and relatives of senior municipal officials.
- Allegations that some of the positions filled are not in the municipal organogram.
- That some job applications were submitted late and by fax.
- Allegations that some of the appointed candidates did not meet job requirements and salary adjustments were done without following the correct procedures.
- Allegations relating to inflation of prices when the Municipality hosted a Strategic Planning Session in March 2013.

All the above allegations were carefully investigated by the Office of the Public Protector and no wrong doing was found on the part of the Municipality.

We would like to assure our people that we will continue to deliver quality services and implement clean administration to bring a better life for all.
